To enter the collegiate races, riders MUST have a USA Cycling Annual License. No one-day licenses will be accepted. License status must be verified prior to race day. No licenses will be sold on site. All collegiate riders must be duly registered as part of a Colorado, Wyoming, or Utah team to earn collegiate points. Women's C will compete in the same wave as Women's B in all events, but will be scored separately. There will only be one podium for awards (collegiate + open), but collegiate riders will be scored separately for conference points.

Call ups for XC and STXC

Teams will be called up based on a random draw. In the first round, each team can send one rider, followed by a second round, and then a third. After the third round, everyone remaining will be staged. Non-collegiate riders will be randomly interspersed during the call ups. Each event will have a separate draw.

Brian Head Venue Passes

Brian head does something a little different. There is no lift ticket, per se. Every user of the facility has to buy a venue pass. The venue ticket price is $45 for a 1-day, $69 for a 2-day or $104 for a 3-day ticket. This is a fee for using the facilities. It also includes a lift ticket, but everyone must have one to be on site. So, in a sense, everyone gets to use the lifts whether they are riding gravity or not. To arrange for your pass, call the ticket office at (435) 677 2035.

Camping

Camping will be allowed at the Navajo Parking Lot (car/tent) for no charge. There are other good campgrounds nearby, such as Sugarloaf.

Accommodations

Preferred housing at Brian Head is at the Best Western. Racers get a 15% discount. Call (435) 677-9000 to get the discount.

Base of Operations

The event will be based out of Giant Steps Lodge, which is near the base just up from the Navajo Parking Lot / Camping area. All packet pick up and race coordination will start there at the cafeteria on the second floor.
